AFRICA 2022

Dear Friends,

Throughout the years, we've been blessed enough to travel to Africa and see exactly where our gemstones originate from. We've had the joy of exploring the incredible lands that produce our gemstones, and individually meeting many of the miners and gemcutters whose hard work is the very foundation of the jewelry industry.

Not only do we strive to bring you the world's most vibrant gemstones, but we strive to do it ethically. It's our responsibility to see beyond the finished product—to understand a gemstone's journey from beginning to end, and to share our knowledge with you. The next time you shop for jewelry with us, we invite your curiosity. Ask us where our gemstones came from, and we will be proud to tell you all about it.
